School Board Considers 'Vacation Rotation' Plan

We nearly fell off our chair yesterday morning when a woman called asking how to enter the Pioneer Days Beard-Growing Contest. Feeling certain that, at last, we should have a bearded lady entrant, we explained the rules in guarded tones. Finally, she said:

"Oh, silly, of course I am not entering. I'm just finding out for my husband."

She was right: we felt silly.

If you went to the trouble of marching in a parade and saw only streets that were almost empty, would you feel anybody really "cared"?

Midge Barter doesn't need a watch to tell if she's on schedule when she leaves for work every morning. She says a black cocker spaniel pup methodically trots across Mountain Trail at Highland at the same minute every day.

We understand that $1.30 was raised at the Woman's Club last week for the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation drive. Oh Well, every LITTLE BIT helps.

Remember to vote Tuesday. A large turn out might win the Board of Supervisor's honor scroll for Sierra Madre.

Scouts Clean-Up City Cemetery

Sierra Madre Scouts, approximately 29 strong, turned out Saturday morning to put the city cemetery in shape for Tuesday's Memorial Day services.

Boys from all the Boy Scout troops, the Sea Scouts Ship, and several Cub Pack 1 spent the morning hoeing and raking weeds that for so long have cluttered up Sierra Madre's burial grounds.

Leaders and adults present included Mayor William A. Kinney, Louis McClelland, Troop 1 Scoutmaster; Fred Jacobsen, Troop 1; Eugene "Beans" Colbert; George Black; and Earl Lalone. Mayor Kinney formerly was Sierra Madre District Chairman, Boy Scouts of America.

Several loads of weeds and leaves were carted away by a city truck. Unscheduled refreshments—soda pop and lemonade—were furnished the workers by Arnold's Hardware and a Mr. Woodward.

Accident Victim Dies

Mrs. Kate Bensco, 52, of Altadena, suffered injuries Sunday evening when she was involved

Shortly before press time yesterday, the NEWS learned that Mrs. Bensco died. The woman passed away late Tuesday night.

According to the School Board, alternatives to the vacation rotation plan are: 1. To rent and equip outside space, away from the school plant; 2. To lease tents or some other type of portable housing and erect them on the school grounds; and 3. Double sessions.

Board members and Superintendent Charles A. Skutt say that the rotation plan, proposed by Alan K. Thompson, seems more desirable from the standpoints of expense and welfare of the school children.

"Because it is such an important matter, however, we want to know what the public thinks," Mr. Skutt explained.

Mimeographed explanations of the proposal will be sent to all parents of City School children, and the subject will be introduced at recent meetings.

Citizens Vote Tuesday In Primary Election

Sierra Madreans will vote next Tuesday, June 6, in the state primary election.

A total of 397 candidates are seeking election or reelection in races for 135 State and Congressional offices.

In the top state posts there are six candidates for governor; five for lieutenant governor; two for secretary of state; five for controller; three for treasurer; seven for attorney general; 15 for the four Board of Equalization offices; and two for the non-partisan office of superintendent of public instruction.

There are 225 candidates in the campaign for 80 seats in the State Assembly, while 49 are seeking state senate posts.

In the contest for one seat in the United States Senate, there are six candidates, and a total of 78 are filed for 23 seats in Congress' House of Representatives. Many candidates for state and congressional offices have cross-filed, however, and there actually are considerably fewer individuals than the 397.

In addition, Sierra Madre voters will decide on three proposed amendments to the State Constitution. A summary of these measures is published on page 3 of the NEWS.

City Clerk Lawrence B. Brain announced that there are 4147 residents in Sierra Madre eligible to vote in the primary.

The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

• Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Sierra Madre Lions Club Annual Pioneer Days celebration is at hand, and . . . WHEREAS, the Pioneer Days spirit should be expressed by a healthy growth of beard by all male citizens, . . . I, William A. Kinney, as mayor of the city of Sierra Madre, do hereby proclaim that all citizens from this day, Thursday, June 1, through the duration of Pioneer Days, must grow a beard—or buy a shave permit from the Sierra Madre Lions Club . . . I further decree that any beardless men lacking said shave permit, are hereby subject to fines, imprisonment, or both, ordered at the discretion of Sierra Madre's Kangaroo Court.

Signed,
William A. Kinney, Mayor.

NOTIFY CHAMBER OF 'CALENDAR' CHANGES

Changes or additions to the Chamber of Commerce's weekly "Community Calendar" should be phoned into the Chamber office by Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock.

Al S. Myers, Chamber secretary, asks all publicity chairmen or officials of local organizations to notify him of all changes or special attractions.

The "Community Calendar" is published each week in the NEWS as a service to Sierra Madreans.

Mayor Says Win Scroll, Vote Tuesday

A large turnout of Sierra Madre voters at the polls next Tuesday, June 6, was urged this week by Mayor William A. Kinney.

Besides the obvious duty every citizen has to vote in all elections, there is an additional reason to vote in the primary election next Tuesday," Mr. Kinney said.

He reminded voters that the County Board of Supervisors has promised to present a scroll of honor to the city having the highest percentage of registered voters in the election.

"If we want the scroll for Sierra Madre, we must work for it," Mayor Kinney stated. "Remember, 44 other cities of the county will be competing also."

At last week's meeting of the City Council, city employees were ordered to sound the fire whistle three times Tuesday as a reminder to vote.

City Engineer Harry H. Shatto will direct the "noisy memo" at 7 a. m., 12 noon, and at 5 p. m.

Planners Study Large Grandview Subdivision

Possibility that Sierra Madre's city boundaries will be extended several yards on the east was introduced at last Thursday's meeting of the Planning Commission.

Extending the city's boundaries would prevent cutting through seven of some 60 lots proposed in a new subdivision the planners are considering on Grandview, just east of Santa Anita avenue (Double Drive).

The boundary, as it is now, would run through seven of the lots planned for Subdivision 15709.

Egil Hoper, representing the Barnett, Hoper and Smith civil engineering firm of Pasadena, presented a tentative map of the subdivision to the Planning Commission. A new map, meeting city lot-size requirements, will be submitted at next month's meeting of the planners.

There being no protests at two public hearings, the commission granted the request of Bethany Church for a zoning variance from R-1 to C-1 on property west of the church on Montecito. Bethany Church plans to expand its facilities with this lot.

Sideyard variances of from 5 to 3 feet were granted Joseph Savoldi, 445 E. Sierra Madre boulevard; Clara Sykes, 91 W. Highland; Helen M. Johnson, 285 E. Grandview; and Fred H. Janke, 205, 207, and 209 N. Baldwin avenue. A sideyard and frontyard variance was granted T. Sampson for his property on Skyline Drive.

In paying his fine, Lloyd commented that it "shouldn't take very long for citizens to become familiar with the recently-installed sign—$5 a crack for each violation."

Five offenders forfeited bail by not appearing in court.

The carnival, featuring concessions operated by 12 local organizations, will continue through Saturday, June 10.

Poll Shows Citizens Want Street Repair

The NEWS this week obtained a random sampling of what Sierra Madreans think of the city street situation. Several residents and merchants were asked this question:

"Mayor William A. Kinney has said he 'likes Sierra Madre streets as they are.' What is your feeling on this matter?"

Here are the answers:

Mrs. Edward Clinton Young, 131 E. Orange Grove: "I have traveled in a great many cities in the United States, and I have never seen a more unkept, uninviting city. The streets are in deplorable condition."

Joe T. Russell, 150 W. Montecito: "Streets of Sierra Madre are long overdue for improvement and repair. I think the city should get busy on this right away."

Richard W. Lees, 312 E. Grandview: "I feel available state and county money for street repair should be judiciously spent toward dust-settling or at least minimum paving of all unpaved streets. The more heavily-traveled thoroughfares should at least be resurfaced with bumps and chuckholes eliminated—and, where possible, some reengineering for grade and drainage

At Tuesday's concluding meeting, the Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx was analyzed.

LOVELY Nancy Remple smiles as she sees her score on the Driveometer, a mechanical device for recording a driver's reactions in simulated driving emergencies.

The Driveometer will be used as a means of illustrating the "How Far Behind Are You?" theme of the June traffic safety program sponsored by the Insurance Association of Los Angeles and the National Safety Council. It will be located in various Los Angeles County communities throughout the month. Everyone is welcome to take the test and scores will have no bearing on present or future driving status.

Prop. No. 1

The State Legislature, by a unanimous vote, has asked the people of California to authorize the issuance and sale of state bonds not exceeding the sum of $100,000,000 to provide funds for California veterans to acquire farms and homes.

Proposition No. 1, not an amendment but a new section added to the State Constitution, would bring into operation the Veterans Bond Act of 1949, which governs the manner of issuing, selling, and redeeming the bonds.

Proponents of the measure point out that although 164,000 residents of California are veterans and eligible for state home and farm loans, state funds previously authorized are about used up. In financing homes and farms for veterans, California is the leading state of the union. Six previous bond issues have been approved. But housing remains a serious problem in California.

The proposition's supporters say that while the federal government provides loans through the GI Bill of Rights, it does not fill the whole need. The advantage of the state loan, they say, is that it can be spread over a period of years and it needs no other financing. It supplements, but does not compete with the federal program.

There is no known opposition to Proposition No. 1.

Prop. No. 2

Proposition No. 2 provides that the State Legislature will determine to what extent the interest of a veteran in real property being purchased by him from the department of veterans affairs under the contract by which the department retains legal title to the property.

Backers of the measure contend that, under a State Supreme Court Decision, the entire value of the property is assessed against the veteran regardless of the fact that the value of his interest may be only a fraction of the value of the property.

"This constitutional amendment is necessary to protect the interest of veterans and to encourage their participation in the veterans farm and home purchase program," supporters say.

The measure is supported by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, and the Assembly committee on military affairs.

Opponents declare that special privilege is sought in this measure on behalf of the small minority of veteran home owners who purchase their property by means of loans from the state.

Approximately 22,000 veterans are purchasing their homes or farms through state loans, paying only 3 per cent interest and enjoying unusually low fire insurance rates. At the same time, about 125,000 veterans are financing their home purchases through the FHA and Veterans Administration loans, paying a higher rate of interest and standard fire insurance rates.

The Supreme Court recently determined that no group of veterans should be entitled to more than the regular $1000 veterans real property tax exemptions.

"Do not be confused by the wording of the proposed amendment," opponents state, "which states that such property shall 'not' be exempt from taxation. Such property is not now exempt from taxation. The entire meaning of the measure is found in its final words: 'except as the Legislature may provide'."

Proponents of the measure point out that although 164,000 residents of California are veterans and eligible for state home and farm loans, state funds previously authorized are about used up. In financing homes and farms for veterans, California is the leading state of the union. Six previous bond issues have been approved. But housing remains a serious problem in California.

The propositions' supporters say that while the federal government provides loans through the GI Bill of Rights, it does not fill the whole need. The advantage of the state loan, they say, is that it can be spread over a period of years and it needs no other financing. It supplements, but does not compete with the federal program.

According to supporters of the measure, it would break the financial bottleneck in providing sufficient parking. While it is possible at present to accumulate parking meter revenues for this purpose, it is not possible to pledge anticipated revenues in advance of receipt for the purpose of securing revenue bonds which will be issued immediately to construct off-street parking lots and garages.

"A favorable vote on this constitutional amendment will make it possible for many cities actually to start construction on parking facilities within the next few months," sponsors say.

There is no known opposition to the measure.

The Good Old American Vacation Is On the Way Out

Summer vacation for nearly all the kids of Sierra Madre—and vacations for their parents—was on the verge of disappearing this week.

But parents of Sierra Madre will not officially be notified next week that the school board is "very seriously considering" the four-quarter plan school for institution this summer.

The plan itself was only introduced as an "idea" here last month. At that time it was understood that the plan would be considered thoroughly and that parents would be given adequate notice so that summer plans could be made.

School Superintendent Charles Skutt said yesterday that "the school board will have it up for consideration and final action at its regular meeting June 13."

He said that if it is to be instituted at all this summer it would have to be accepted then. He said that no public hearing on the matter had been called—that it would come before the board as a "regular item of the agenda."

If the plan is accepted nearly 450 of the 600 children attending the public school will be attending classes beginning in July. They will have vacations variously throughout the year—some beginning in October, some in January and others in April.

Skutt said that information sheets—check sheets—would go to the parents "beginning next Monday."

Skutt admitted that this plan was only "under consideration." But it was pointed out that although it would remain in this category until June 13, final action would be taken then.

"If it is to do us any good at all, it must be put into effect this summer," Skutt said.

Skutt said that there is no other school in California working under this rotational program. He said he knows of only one school in the United States—at Houston, Texas—that has adopted this innovation.

During May the NEWS was told that the plan would be "under consideration" this summer. It was not inferred from school officials that it would be "adopted" this summer.

It hardly seems that ten days is sufficient notice for institution of such a program. After all, summer is already here.

take part in some of the carnival activities.

"There have been more parade entry blanks requested this year than ever before," Mr. Ripple observed. "We still must get back a great many of them, however."

Some of the entries to date include a comedy act by the Monrovia Elks Lodge, Reeves Ranger 60-piece band, antique bicycles and automobiles, several floats, a sail boat on wheels, and nearly a dozen equestrian units.

The parade chairman said trophies and awards for parade winners—equestrian and other entries—probably would be displayed in one of the downtown store windows next week.

"We would appreciate suggestions from citizens for a parade Grand Marshal," he said. "Drop off all ideas at the NEWS office. Parade entries also may be obtained there."

Marshall Mendel, 12 W. Sierra Madre boulevard: "Our streets are in a disgraceful condition, and it's really a shame. Something must be done about them. Sierra Madre no longer is the one-horse town it once was. Our main thoroughfares, Sierra Madre boulevard, Baldwin, and Orange Grove, are in a deplorable state of disrepair."

Ronald Black, 99 E. Laurel: "City streets are very run-down. Since the city has money to do the job, I don't see why they are not repaired."

semi-pro hardball team, 26 to 12.

Playing before the largest crowd yet to witness a game on the city's new ball diamond, the Raiders collected 29 base hits to 12 for the visiting team.

Billy Kiggins, Raiders' second baseman, accounted for a homerun, three doubles and two singles to pace the local victory.

Sierra Madre's softball team last week won once and lost once to remain half a game out of first place in the Pasadena Owl League at Brookside Park.

Manager Larry Shepherd reports two VFW players suffered fractured fingers in recent games: Bill Evans and Len Franco. Both boys are heavy hitters, according to Shepherd.

The Raiders will meet the Los Angeles Cherubs this Sunday in local hardball competition. Game time: 2 p.m.

Friendship Club Annual Picnic Planned Monday

Annual Picnic of the Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club will be conducted Monday, June 5, at the City Park. Festivities will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Alice Sedgman, club president, said tea and coffee will be served, but that guests should bring their own lunches and service.

Friendship Club chairman in charge of the picnic is Mrs. Percy Kortkamp, assisted by Mrs. Frank Holloway, Mrs. Edward Hume, and Mrs. Stewart Matter.

Following the picnic lunch, Mrs. Etta Leguin and her music group will present a program in the Park House.

Mrs. Sedgman promises that there will be something fun to do for everyone. She invited all Sierra Madreans to attend. Persons should bring their own cards and games, however, she said.

Members of the sewing group will continue to meet through the summer months, working in preparation for the annual Village Fair in October, Mrs. Sedgman said.

Next Monday's picnic is the last meeting of the year for the Friendship Club as a whole, however, she explained. Monthly get-togethers will resume in October.

tractions would be.

"Wait and see," was the way the parade chairman put it.

Construction will begin in earnest this weekend on the concession booths, although at least one booth already had been started Monday.

Mr. Ripple emphasized that Wednesday night's opening of the carnival and concessions will be more of a "trial run" than actual operation. Operators may become familiar with their duties before the carnival crowds converge.

Sierra Madre organizations setting up and operating concessions are Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Sea Scouts, VFW Recreation Committee, Boy Scout Troop 4, Children's Hospital Guild, American Legion Auxiliary, Heavy Mortar Company, Civic Club, VFW Auxiliary, Nursery School Association, and Hadassah.

Mr. Ripple said groups wanting more information on operating their concessions are invited to send a representative to this evening's meeting of the Lions Club, sponsors of Pioneer Days, 7:30 at the Woman's Clubhouse.

With Mr. Davis assuming his duties in this area, Sierra Madre will gain several new residents. The Davis family—Mr., Mrs. and their two children—will live at 252 Mariposa. The youngsters, Louise and Barbara Lee, will attend City School.

Mr. Davis' last assignment was in Holyoke, Mass., where he served as Scout Executive of the Mt. Tom Council. He will be concerned with public education, public relations and finance for the local council.

Since going into Scouting, Mr. Davis has served in Farmington, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., as well as Holyoke.

Tallman H. Trask will continue as Scout Executive for the council.

Mrs. William A. Kinney was authorized by the Scouting council to be a "committee of one" in making arrangements for the Davis family's welcome to Sierra Madre. A part of her surprise greeting was the complete stocking of their kitchen icebox.

LA County Observes World Trade Week

Mr. and Mrs. Los Angeles County got a solid idea of their personal stake in commerce with other countries during World Trade, May 21 to 28.

Chief objective of the observance was to demonstrate how world trade creates business and payrolls which in turn stimulate the entire economy of this community, according to S. J. Hindle, general chairman. Theme of the week was "World Trade Reaches Your Home."

Take Typhoid Shots, Travelers Warned

With Summer just around the corner, Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, Los Angeles County Health Officer, is calling attention to the need for immunization against typhoid fever for those who plan vacations in foreign countries or remote areas where sanitation facilities are below standards.

Reports show that one death already has occurred this year from "vacation" typhoid, the victim supposedly contacting the disease while on a fishing trip in lower California.

Controller Kuchel estimated that approximately $1,000,000 additional will be received between now and June 30, due to collections on delinquent filings and extensions granted. Sierra Madre residents who served on the banquet committee included Beverly Studden, 419 W. Grandview, and Margot Woodward, 522 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Salt Lake City Family Chooses to Reside Here

The D. R. Woodward family of Salt Lake City, Utah, are among the newest residents in the city. They very recently bought the new home at 184 South Lima. They have three children: Tommy, attending John Marshall Junior High; Bobby and Betsy, enrolled in the Sierra Madre school.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward are alumni of the University of New Hampshire. Mr. Woodward is a hydraulic engineer, is in charge of the Los Angeles U. S. Geological Survey Office.

State Accident Toll Continues Decline

California's accident toll at grade crossings, and on buses, street railways, railroads, and passenger stages continued to decline during 1949, R. E. Mittelstaedt, president of the California Public Utilities Commission, announced this week.

Adding together all of the accidents and casualties other than at grade crossings on railroads, street railways, bus and stage lines, the total number in 1949 was 3779 accidents, resulting in 147 killed and 3990 injured, a total of 4137 casualties. Compared with the 5449 casualties in 1948, this is a numerical reduction of 1312, or approximately 24 per cent in one year.

TENTATIVE X-RAY VISIT DATE SET

Tentative date has been estimated as Nov. 9 as the time when the Los Angeles County Mobile chest x-ray units will visit Sierra Madre.

Wednesday, May 17, R. C. Lewis represented this city at a regional district 12 meeting of the County X-Ray Foundation.

A general discussion of ways and means of x-raying all citizens in the area was conducted at the meeting held in Monrovia.

The following representatives from other towns were present: Mrs. James P. Gray, Arcadia; the Rev. Lavel Spangler, Azusa; R. R. Brown, Monrovia; Miss Hazel Lillian Nelson, Duarate; and Davis De Var Feltshaw, Glendora.

Mr. Lewis said experience shows people are more inclined to make use of x-ray units if they are staffed by local hostesses. Accordingly, he said a part of Sierra Madre's preliminary planning for the program will include appointing hostesses for the days units will be here.

Wives Fail to File For Social Security

Many wives and widows have lost substantial amounts in Social Security benefits, according to Jay Wooton, manager of the Pasadena office of the Social Security Administration.

Most of the losses are in cases where the wife reaches 65 after the husband has started to receive old-age benefits. In each case, the husband has been told to have his wife file when she reaches 65, but this often is overlooked.

A wife who is 65 is not entitled to wife's benefits unless she has been married to the husband for at least three years. Many wives fail to file a claim when the three-year period has elapsed.

Shasta Centennial to Feature Dam Opening

The floodgates of mighty Shasta Dam at Redding will be lifted for the first time during the Shasta Centennial Celebration June 11-18, allowing a full flow of water down the tremendous spillway.

This unprecedented demonstration will take place twice—during the formal dedication of the dam by the federal government the afternoon of June 17, and the night before during a fireworks and lighting display arranged by the California Centennial Commission.

TOM HENZE WILL REPRESENT MUIR AT BOYS' STATE

Tom Henze, 17, son of Mrs. Carl Henze, 91 E. Laurel, has been selected as one of three John Muir College representatives to attend the Boys' State in Sacramento at the close of the semester.

Tom, who plans to be a physical education coach, is a member of the Muir Freshman Council. He is a graduate of Wilson Junior High School, where he was student body president, served as commissioner of boys' activities, and received the Kiwanis Award for school leadership.

The youth also was honored two different years at the Pasadena Sports Jamboree.

The three Muir boys will be sponsored on their trip by Almadena American Legion Post 479 and Pasadena Post 13.

ANDERSON RAPS PE ABANDONMENT

Branding the recent decision of the Public Utilities Commission to permit abandonment of Pacific Electric rail services in this area as "a shocking and callous disregard of the public interest," Glenn M. Anderson, chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges, this week called on Governor Warren to have this order rescinded.

"At a time when the Los Angeles area is trying desperately to catch up with its traffic problem," Mr. Anderson stated in his letter to the Governor, "The decision of the commission will set us back years by blocking our freeways, many of which are not yet even completed."
